YOUR GUIDE TO PIERCING AFTERCARE

GENITAL PIERCINGS

Congratulations on your piercing!

If you're reading this then we assume that you've recently had a new piercing from Blue Banana – which is awesome! We hope you had a great experience when visiting one of our in-store piercing studios.

Your new piercing has been performed by one of our qualified piercers in a sterile environment using high quality, sterile equipment. Now, it is up to you to ensure that the piercing remains clean whilst it heals and settles into place.

If you follow our guidelines for aftercare; you should experience little or no problems with your piercing. Everyone's body will react differently to a new piercing so it's important to know as much as possible about piercing healing and aftercare.

Whether you're a piercing pro or a body jewellery beginner we invite you to use all the information provided here and on our website.

Experiencing Problems?

If you are ever concerned then you are always welcome to come back into store for a chat. Our piercers will be more than happy to help you with any questions on your new piercing and be able to provide additional information on how to look after it.

If you are experiencing problems with the piercing healing, or are having an unexpected reaction, and you are unable to re-visit the store, we do recommend visiting a medical professional such as your GP – who will be able to assist further.

PLEASE NOTE: If you have a genital piercing performed at any of our Blue Banana studios, by law there must always be a chaperone present. This chaperone will be a same-sex member of staff who is simply required to be present in the room for the protection of both the customer and the piercer. The chaperone will not actively participate in the piercing, however this is a legal requirement for ANY genital piercing and is therefore non-negotiable.

Cleaning and Healing Information:

You can use this aftercare guide for the following piercings: Clitoral Hood, Labia, Christina, Ampallang, Apadravya, Dydoe, Foreskin, Frenulum, Hafada, Lorum, Pubic & Prince Albert Piercings.

Just After Piercing

When you've just had your piercing it can be tempting to feel around and play with your piercing. LITHA is one of our favourite mantras for a new piercing – leave it the hell alone! The area will be sensitive after the procedure so could do without being knocked around and handled.

After the initial piercing, keep the area clear from unnecessary contact.

Healing Time

Genital piercings will require extra time, care and patience to heal successfully. Depending on your piercing, healing can take anywhere between 6 weeks to 4 months to heal; but this can depend on how well it is looked after and how your body reacts. For estimated healing times for your chosen piercing, speak directly with your piercer.

Genital piercings are prone to being knocked around through day to day activities. Try to be aware of the new piercing and be especially vigilant when it comes to taking care of it.

The Cleaning Process

Here are our recommended steps for cleaning your genital piercing:

1. Use a solution of natural sea salt and pre-boiled water (a pinch of salt in $\frac{1}{2}$ a glass of water is ideal) to clean the piercing.
2. Gently clean the area of skin around the piercing to keep it clean, hygienic and sterile. Depending on your piercing it may be possible to submerge the piercing in the sterile solution (A great tip is to use a shot glass or a small bowl).
3. We recommend using a cotton bud to clean the piercing TWICE a day for at least 3 months.

During The Healing Process

- Redness/Discharge: As with any new piercing a local area of redness and a small amount of white/yellowish discharge are both healthy and completely normal. If you experience a more painful swelling, spread over a bigger area or accompanied by other symptoms of infection you should return to the store and/or consult your GP.

Jewellery Change

We recommend only changing the jewellery around 4 weeks after the piercing has taken place. Taking out or twisting your piercing before this time will prolong the healing process. By leaving it for longer you allow it to heal for longer and settle into its position.

When you're ready to change your jewellery; make sure to check out what Blue Banana has available. When it comes to genital piercings we have a huge range of jewellery available in-store and online.
